

“Stand der Dinge”

Florian Schwennsen
Bibliothekskommission
Hamburg, 31.05.2011

➤ Budget (~10 Millionen Euro)

- 73% zugesichert (27 Länder)
- Verhandlungen laufen mit Japan, China, Russland, Brasilien, Indien (zusammen 23%)

➤ Meeting am 6. April 2011

- Anvisierter Start: 1.1.2013
- Ausschreibung in zwei Schritten – dazwischen verbindliche Zusagen der Länder
- DESY wird die die nötigen Länder-Statistiken bereitstellen
- Zwei Arbeitsgruppen formieren sich jetzt

Organisation

- “A steering committee, representing the broad cross-section of the SCOAP³ partnership. This committee will co-ordinate the tendering process and the related decisions, provide the exact tender requirements, liaise with the technical legal and purchasing services at CERN for the execution and adjudication of the tender, and move the initiative through its next phases.”
 - Adachi (Japan, observer), Paul Ayris (UK), Stefano Bianco (Italy), Miriam Blake (US), Joao Moreira (Portugal), Ann Okerson (US), Ralf Schimmer (Germany), Xiaolin Zhang (China, observer)
 - Salvatore Mele (CERN, convener), Ivy Anderson (US, ex-officio, liaising with the tech. group)

- “A technical working group, leveraging the unique expertise of the SCOAP³ partnership in licensing and in liaising with national library communities in order to address the key question of the price reduction for content today in large-scale subscription packages and eventually to be converted by SCOAP³ to Open Access. This working group should collect requirement, analyse principles, and suggest ways forward toward a concrete implementation and monitoring.”
 - Elke Brehm (Germany), Mirela Dinescu (Romania), Paola Gargiulo (Italy), Anne Gentil-Beccot (CERN), Paul Harwood (UK), Anna Lunden (Sweden), Tom Sanville (US, TBC)
 - Ivy Anderson (US, convener)

